

Inside Your Congress

"Cannons To The Right of Him!"

—by—
SAMUEL R. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Truman and Cannon are both from Missouri and both are Democrats. Cannon is Chairman of the Appropriations Committee of the House and one of the most powerful figures on Capitol Hill.

Mr. Cannon recently made a speech which may be very significant. Anyhow, it won the praise of Republican Congressmen; and his fellow Democrat, Ludlow of Indiana said, "He has charted the course we must take."

The gentleman from Missouri said we have been on "a spending spree such as the world has never known." For 15 years we have been running this government on IOUs. For a decade we had developed a spending psychology... without parallel in the fiscal annals of any nation.

"We have reached this year and month a turn in a long road. In the end disaster must overtake any nation that fails to pay its way."

Strong language. Does it foreshadow a complete break with the Belshazzar's Feast and on-with-the-dance theories of the Roosevelt New Deal?—the end of Lord Keynes and Professor Hanson and Harry Hopkins as the ignis fatuus (false lights) in the swamplands of deficit spending?—the end of seeking safe ways to be dishonest?

Did the Chairman of Appropriations speak only his own honest mind? Or had he visited his fellow-Missourian in the big house up the avenue?

This latter theory, admittedly, doesn't jibe with the Presidential push for "full employment," bigger salaries for bureaucrats, increased pay for not working, a huge "health" bill, etc.

But since Mr. Truman obliged the Hillman contingent with all these urgings, there has been an apparently startling split with the C.I.O. "Liberal" journals, such as the New Republic, and the Communist sheets, are asking, "Has Truman lost the Left?"

If Truman has lost the Left, what then? Will the Left play Wallace against him and force the President to look to the Right for his chances for renomination? Or, as one of the remaining shrewd men on the G. O. P. National Committee put it to me at their Chicago meeting, "Will Truman be forced to run for the goal line with the Republican ball in his hands?"

There is no answer to these questions. Truman knows that if he and his recent running mate had just broken even in eight northern cities, they would have been defeated. That he knows. The election figures are there. The rest is fog and the shadow of a mist.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Klerman
(Distributed by International News Service)

Mr. Petrillo has banned all musical programs coming from the outside world except any which originate in Canada or heaven.

After January 1, Gabriel still will be permitted one non-commercial toll on his trumpet but Englishmen who whistle through their teeth when they talk are washed up in the international division of BBC.

Joe Stalin would be cut off our air if he sounded an accidental "A" while cleaning his pipe and Winnie Churchill will not be permitted a mouth-piece for his cigar while in a studio unless he pays a standby clarinet player.

If necessary, the United States Marine Band will be floated into Bering Straits to prevent bootlegging of the next Shostakovich Soviet Symphony into Alaska with a 10-watt transmitter.

One good thing about Petrillo's ban is that it leaves us with extra wave lengths for General Electric's new electronic hot dog vending machine.

That thing puzzles me a little bit.

I can understand how the lights will light when the bun is toasted. I can understand how the bell will ring when the frankfurter is done. But what happens when the customer tilts the mustard?

WARRINGTONIAN LEAVES AN ESTATE VALUED AT $9,000

Heirloom Left to Son; Trust Fund to Provide for Grave Care

THE HENZE ESTATE

Personal Estate of S. W. Landis To Be Shared By Two Persons

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 28.—Leaving a personal estate of $9,000, A. Matilda McKinstry, Warrington, who died October 31, bequeathed an heirloom to her son and arranged a trust fund of $100 to provide for graves in a cemetery at Neshamly Presbyterian Church, in Warwick township.

The testatrix, who executed her will November 18, 1941, left a grandfather's clock to a son, Henry R. McKinstry, Chalfont, with the stipulation that it should be handed down in the family. Two sons, Henry and Herbert, will share the residue.

Other beneficiaries include five grandchildren, Helen, Henry, Eleanor, Herbert and Robert; a great-granddaughter, Joan Diane McKinstry, $100, and Mary S. McKinstry, 550 Kathmere road, Brookline, $500.

Two children, Florence and Charles, will share the residue of a $7,000 personal and $2,000 real estate holdings left by Annie Henze, of Milford township. The daughter, Florence, was bequeathed land in Milford township. St. John's Lutheran Church, Spinnerstown, was bequeathed the sum of $100 which will provide care for family graves.

The testatrix, who died November 29, named her daughter, Florence E. Henze, Quakertown, RD 1, executrix.

With the exception of a bequest of $1,000 to a son, Stanley, the $2,200 personal estate of Samuel W. Landis, Milford township, will be shared equally by Helen Bachman and Stanley Landis. The will was executed January 17, 1945, and the testator died November 29, naming his son, who lives at 211 Branch street, Quakertown, and Helen Bachman, Rigelsville, executors.

COUNCIL TO LIST R. R. PROPERTY NEEDING PAVING

Complaint Received About Drainage at Street Ends Near Elevated Tracks

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Council Adopts Resolution Memorializing the Late Evan B. Vandegrift

A demand for draining and placing curbs along several Bristol properties owned by the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad Company was voiced in Borough Council last night.

The question was raised by a letter of complaint from Michael J. Keating, of Corson street, who said property adjoining his own residence lacked sidewalks and curbs, and that the poor drainage created an unsanitary condition.

In the discussion it was asked by members of council whether the ground was owned by the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad, and this was confirmed by the Borough Engineer, John S. Roberts.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Gives Russian Aims in Occupied Germany

Berlin.—The Russian military governor of Saxony said today Soviet aims in occupied Germany were suppression of military industries, isolation of war criminals and control of German self government agencies. Maj. Gen. Alexander G. Kotikov, veteran of the battle of Berlin, emphasized that Russian control did not include interference with German churches because "guns were not made there."

Kotikov said many plants manufacturing poison gas and other chemicals had been dismantled by the Russians, but that transportation difficulties hindered removal of machinery and other items. He added that the chief difficulty in uncovering leading Nazis was that now "every big Nazi tries to show he was a small one."

The General estimated that Soviet occupation would last "long enough to prevent aggression," but declined to estimate how long that would be. An attempt is being made to teach Russian, without compulsion, in German schools.

Chosen President

Harrisburg.—Tabulations of sectional ballots cast during the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association at Harrisburg today revealed the election of J. L. Halderman, Doylestown, as president of the supervising principals.

Major Zeneo Saito Arraigned for War Crimes

Manila.—Another Japanese Army man in the Philippines was arraigned on war crimes charges in Manila today and pleaded not guilty. He is Major Zeneo Saito, who headed the notorious "Tiger unit" in northern Luzon. His trial was set for January 11.

Trials of Takuma Higashiji, an interpreter, Lt. Col. Seichi Ohta, wartime military police chief in the Philippines, and Lt. Gen. Nikotro Tijima and twelve others charged with him in the deaths of three American aviators on Bataan island, which began yesterday continued.

Higashiji's nonchalant attitude amazed the Military Commission hearing his case. Only once was his interest aroused and he nodded his head confirming an atrocity story a witness recalled. Ohta's case was featured by the sobbing testimony of the widow of Dr. Luz De Santos. A few years ago named "Miss Philippines," beautiful Mrs. De Santos told how Ohta's men tortured the doctor to death. The torture included driving lighted matches under his fingernails.

Spanish War Veteran Is Found Dead in His Bed

Mr. Lake had served four enlistments in the army, and spent some time in the Philippines, he being a hospital steward. His wife, Sarah A. Lake, is the only survivor.

Service will be conducted at two o'clock tomorrow at the Horner funeral home, Langhorne, with the Rev. N. Herbert Caley, rector of St. James' P. E. Church, Langhorne, officiating. Burial will be in the National Cemetery, Philadelphia. Friends may call this evening.

CLAIM DISADVANTAGE IN THE CONTROL LAW

Soft Coal Strippers In Central Pa. Brand Filing Fee As A Tax

$200 BOND, "PENALTY"

(This is the third and last in a series of three exclusive articles on strip coal mining in Pennsylvania, giving the attitude of the operators toward a control law which went into effect over five months ago, but which is no longer enforced due to the pending court fight over constitutionality of the act. Today, central Pennsylvania operators object to the control law.)

By Bob Butler
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Central Pennsylvania soft coal strippers maintain the control law now on the State's statute books places them at an economic disadvantage.

Strippers in the central Pennsylvania field brand the $100 filing fee a "tax" and the $200 per acre bond a "penalty," which they say they are not as well able to afford as are the operators in the western Pennsylvania field.

They argue they get only about 3000 tons of coal per acre of land while western strippers get about 7000 tons. Thus, they say, the cost of the filing fee and the per acre bond is more per ton of coal recovered in central Pennsylvania than it is in the western part of the state.

Yet, Jack H. Wallin, chairman of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Strippers' Association, contends most of them are strong enough now to remain in business despite a drop in the price of coal.

"When the price drops, a lot of operators will go in both fields, but 60 per cent of the central Pennsylvania men will remain in business," he predicted.

Wallin's organization was a leader in the fight against the 1945 act. Briefly, the arguments of this group against constitutionality of the law are these:

1. It applies only to soft coal mining and not to other stripping such as anthracite, iron, limestone and clays.
2. It is basically an unequal tax, it is confiscation without due process of law.
3. The money is paid into the Department of Mines and is spent by the Department of Forests and

BOROUGH COUNCIL SETS UP BOARD TO IMPROVE GROUNDS, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE PROPOSED RECREATION PARK; TWO OF FIVE MEMBERS TO BE SCHOOL DIRECTORS

Letter of Transmittal

Bristol, Pa., Dec. 27, 1945.
The Burgess, The President, and Members of the Council of the Borough of Bristol
Pennsylvania
Gentlemen:

As a War Memorial Recreation Park, I desire to give to the Borough of Bristol for use as public playgrounds two tracts of land comprising approximately fifteen acres, five acres lying southeast of the Pennsylvania Railroad right-of-way adjoining the plant of the William H. Grundy Company, and ten acres northwest of the Railroad, diagonally across from the first-mentioned five-acre tract. Accordingly, I enclose herewith duly executed Deeds of Conveyance.

Recognizing that the improvement of these tracts for the purposes mentioned will require an initial capital expenditure, I enclose my check to the order of the Borough of Bristol in the amount of $25,000, to be used for the improvement and equipment of these tracts as playgrounds, the general objective to be the creation of a playground and wading pool for younger children on the smaller tract, and the improvement of the larger tract for use for baseball and football, and for other recreational purposes.

I make these gifts subject to the following conditions:

1. That the Deeds to the aforementioned tracts will be accepted by the Borough for the purposes mentioned.
2. That the gift of $25,000 will be treated as a special fund to be used only for the purposes set forth above.

In this connection it is my wish that the Borough take appropriate action to create a recreation board under the provisions of the General Borough Act having the power and authority to equip, operate and maintain all playgrounds, playfields and other recreational facilities.

Further Resolved, That the sum of $25,000 be and it is hereby accepted by the Borough as a special fund to be used only for the improvement and equipment of the aforementioned tracts of land as public playgrounds and for other recreational purposes.

Adopted this 27th day of December, A. D. One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Five (1945).

President Pro Tem of Council.

Deed to Property and Check for $25,000 Received from Senator Joseph R. Grundy

ORDINANCES ADOPTED

Complete Legal Phases of The Generous Gift For War Memorial

Borough Council last night in a recessed meeting formally received the deed and check with which to create a War Memorial Recreation Park as gift of Senator Joseph R. Grundy, and at the same meeting set up a Recreation Board which will improve the grounds and maintain and operate the park.

The Recreation Board, members of which will be appointed soon by Burgess Jacob C. Schmidt, Sr., will consist of five members, two of whom are to be school directors. They will serve five-year terms, with the exception of the original members who will be appointed to serve from one to five years. Women are eligible for the board.

The check for $25,000 which Senator Grundy submitted to finance the original construction of the park facilities was accepted and immediately appropriated to the Recreation Board in line with the plan suggested by the donor's letter.

While no definite plan of procedure has been worked out for the new board, present expectation is that it will ask experts to lay out a design for the grounds in line with the community's needs, and proceed next spring with carrying out the program.

Last night's action brings much nearer the time when Bristol will enjoy fifteen acres of centrally located recreation grounds as a living War Memorial to those from this community who fought and died in the recent war.

The grounds lie in two areas, separated by the elevated right-of-way of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The one to the south, embracing about five acres, lies along the Delaware Division Canal and forms a well-known landscaped beauty spot accessible from Jefferson avenue and Washington street, long a landmark for passengers on passing trains.

This area has been suggested as a site for playgrounds for younger children, possibly with swings, seesaws, and other amusement devices, and possibly also with the lagoon at the eastern side converted into a wading pool. There is abundant space for various lawn games, tennis courts and similar developments, if these are found desirable.

The other ten acres of the new Memorial field lie in a large triangular bounded by Jefferson avenue, the Pennsylvania Railroad elevated tracks, and the property line of the old Corona Leather Works. At one time these grounds were used for baseball games by St. Ann's Athletic Association.

Tentative plans call for baseball diamonds and a football field on this site. The question of whether bleachers and grandstands are to be erected, and what other sports fields are to be laid out, will be in the hands of the Recreation Board for decision.

The formal letter of submittal sent by Senator Grundy with the deed and check, as well as the Resolution by which Council received the land and money for the assigned purposes, are printed in full in adjoining columns.

Two ordinances embodying the program were presented by Councilman Louis C. Spring, and unanimously adopted. The first created the Recreation Board and defined its powers, and the second appropriated the funds received from Senator Grundy to the Recreation Board for the purpose of improving and equipping the grounds. Text of these two ordinances will be found on Page 2.

CLOUDS OVER ARARAT

It was on Mt. Ararat in the mountains of the Iranian province of Azerbaïdjan that the ark of Noah came to rest during the biblical flood. It was from this spot that a dove was sent forth, and returned with an olive leaf as a sign that the waters were subsiding.

That ancient symbolism comes to mind, as the foreign ministers of the Big Three powers meet in Moscow to thrash out the ticklish problem of Iranian sovereignty and the conflict between British and Russian interests in the Middle East. For Azerbaïdjan, where a separatist revolt with encouragement of Russia has set up a pro-Soviet regime, is today the world's No. 1 trouble spot. International storm clouds hang low around Mt. Ararat, and there is now no dove, nor olive branch.

Azerbaïdjan is the name both of the northwestern corner of Iran and of a Socialist republic of the Soviet union in the Caucasus and along the southwest shores of the Caspian Sea. Russia claims that the border between Azerbaïdjan and the Soviet Union is responsible for the trouble, but the fact is that the population of Iranian Azerbaïdjan is polyglot—Iranians, Kurds, Armenians and Syrians.

Under the czars, this section of Iran was a Russian sphere of influence by virtue of an agreement which gave Britain dominance in southern Iran, with a neutral zone separating the two powers. The present Soviet activity is a token both of the renaissance of Russian imperialism, and of Soviet oil-hunger. Little exploration has been done in that region but it is generally assumed that it contains rich petroleum deposits. The highly productive Kuruk oil field is just across the border in Iraq.

The present trouble doubtless stems, in part, from the weakness of the current shah. World politics abhors a vacuum; when a government, particularly one as strategically located as Iran, becomes ineffectual, the influence of the great powers moves in and rival imperialisms clash. Such is the case in Iran. And unless the Moscow conference can settle the controversy, with justice and good will, Azerbaïdjan may be the Sudetenland of tomorrow.

NO WAITING HERE

An "After the First of the Year" mania has taken hold in some parts of the United States. In many industrial centers it has become powerfully influential. But this city, as usual with its go-ahead spirit, is not waiting for the new year.

Every store room, every warehouse, every office and every residence is occupied or is being occupied. And there is a great demand for more of all. There is no inclination here to wait for some future date to do things.

The trend toward lighter automobiles will be reversed with a vengeance when atomic power is introduced. An atom-powered engine developing 100 horsepower would weigh fifty tons.

Council To List Railroad Property Needing Paving

Other members then brought out that similar conditions are said to exist on Pine Spruce, and several other nearby Fourth Ward streets, as well as elsewhere on Corson street.

On motion of Councilman Clarence W. Winter, the matter was referred to the Street and Highway Committee to make a survey of property owned by the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad Company which needed such improvements, and to report back to the next meeting of Council so that the company may be notified to have the needs attended to.

Council was notified that the recent $54,000 bond issue for water works improvements has been approved by the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs. With approval completed, Council was advised that a certified check for the full amount was in hand.

On motion of Councilman Richard T. Myers, Council adopted the following resolution memorializing the late Evan B. Vandegrift, member of Council who died December 28th:

A RESOLUTION

With a sense of deep loss, the Bristol Borough Council hereby places on record its regret at the death on December 8 of one of its members, Evan B. Vandegrift, and its appreciation of the great services which he rendered to this community.

Member of this body for sixteen years, and recently elected to his fifth term, Mr. Vandegrift faithfully carried out the trust which his neighbors had reposed in him.

His sterling character, his patient and pleasant disposition, his love of music, his services in the first World War and activities on behalf of the veterans of that conflict, and his life-long interest in the betterment of community affairs, endeared him to the men and women of Bristol and to the members of this body alike, and his loss leaves us greatly bereaved.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we express to the family and to the many personal friends of the deceased our sympathy for their bereavement, and offer our tender condolences in their loss; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be sent to members of the family; that they be spread upon the minutes of Council; and that they be published in the local newspaper.

BRIDES MOVE IN

LONDON—(INS)—Just on the off-chance of getting a vacant seat on a plane leaving for the United States, British brides of American GIs are "moving in" on the trans-Atlantic airbase at Foyne, Eire. Their hope is that eventually some booked passenger will fail to turn up and that the company, rather than let the plane leave without the full load, will offer them the seat.

MINE STORAGE

MARION, Ill.—(INS)—C. W. Hay, of Marion, president of the Egyptian State League, a Southern Illinois organization, urged today that military equipment be stored in that territory. He said the mines which dot the area comprise the safest storage area in the country and that Germany and Japan long ago saw the tremendous possibilities of utilizing vast subterranean areas.

Such Recreation Board shall have the power to adopt rules and regulations for the conduct of all business within its jurisdiction.

Section 4. All expenses incurred in the operating and maintaining of such playgrounds, playfields, and other recreational facilities shall be payable from the treasury of the Borough against appropriations made by the Borough Council for such purposes from time to time as provided by Section 2724, The General Borough Act.

Early Evening Wedding Is Followed By Reception Here

An early evening wedding which was solemnized in Bristol Methodist Church at seven o'clock yesterday, united Miss Alice Emma Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walters, of Midway, and Coxswain Frederick J. Ritter, of the U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ritter, of West Bristol. The Rev. W. E. Preston Haas, pastor, officiated, with bridal marches by Miss Winifred V. Tracy, organist.

Two young women were attendants of the former Miss Walters. Her sister, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Jr., of 579 Bath street, served as matron of honor; and Miss Evelyn Phillips, Hulmeville, as bridesmaid. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. John E. Ritter, West Bristol, who until recently was a member of the army. The usher was Mr. George Ritter, West Bristol, another brother of the groom. Mr. Walters gave his daughter in marriage.

Attractively gowned in white satin, the bride wore a beaded tiara to which was attached a finger-tip veil of net with double row of lace edging the same. Her gown, entrain, had a yoke of chiffon, the neckline being sweetheart style. The long sleeves tapered over her hands. Slippers were of white satin, and she carried white roses.

Mrs. Stewart and Miss Phillips wore gowns made alike, but in different hues. Mrs. Stewart's gown was poudre blue and Miss Phillips' was in pink. The bodices were of satin, with yokes and skirts of chiffon. Bodices were form-fitting, and skirts were cut long. The sleeves were elbow-length. Floral headpieces with shoulder-length veils matched the respective gowns. They wore silver slippers and carried bouquets of pink carnations and snapdragons. The bride and her attendants wore double-strap pearl necklaces.

The double ring ceremony was used.

A small reception took place at the Stewart residence, after which Coxswain and Mrs. Ritter left by motor for a few days trip southward. They will reside with the bride's father. Travelling costume of the bride consisted of a black dress, teal blue Chesterfield coat, teal blue cloth hat with black trim, and black accessories.

Gifts of Mrs. Ritter to the matron of honor and bridesmaid were earrings, and Coxswain Ritter presented the best man and usher with wallets.

Our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee that Thou has ordained that all who believe on Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord can and do become the Children of God. We thank Thee that Thou art a loving Father providing for us all of our needs. We remember that in the Word Thou hast taught through Thy servant Paul, "But my God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus." Thou hast not promised to supply all of our luxuries, or selfish wants, but our need. We can pray with assurance, "Give us this Day our Daily bread" and we shall receive from Thee. Every day during this passing year we have proved Thee again and again. Give us courage to trust Thee for every day of the new year, in Jesus Name, Amen.

EDGELY A. C. WINS OVER HARRIMAN; RAMBLERS LOSE

Two Fine Games Played In Youth League on Mutual Aid Floor

BIG CROWD ON HAND

Edgely Wins by Score of 29 to 27, and Ramblers Lose to Franklin, 43-41

Followers of the Bristol Youth League who packed the Mutual Aid Hall last night were treated to two of the finest exhibitions of basketball played this season.

In the first game, Edgely A. C. knocked Harriman out of the undefeated column by handing it a 29-27 loss in an extra period game while it took the Franklin A. C. two extra sessions to beat the Ramblers, 43-41, to win its fifth straight game.

A double-decker by George Bintliffe in the extra period after the score had been tied at 27-27 in regulation time gave the Edgelyites their triumph over the Harriman team. During the last few seconds of the game, Harriman had several opportunities to score which would have again deadlocked the score but failed.

It was a field goal by Benny Samsel in the last few seconds of the regulation game that tied the score and sent the tilt into an extra period. Samsel scored from inside the key to even the count which ultimately led to the sixth warders' first defeat of the season and sent them tumbling into second place.

Bintliffe scored 12 points in the Edgely triumph and was aided by eight more by Freddie Hibbs. Lentin led the Harriman passers with six tallies.

The Franklin-Ramblers tilt was interesting from start to finish. Early in the game, the Rams lost the services of their scoring star, "Freddie" Constantino, who was put out on personal fouls. At half-time, Franklin was ahead of the fifth ward team, 21-16.

But at the start of the third quarter, Favorosa went on a little scoring spree and hitting the cords with steady accuracy along with some help by "Lefty" DiTanna managed to tie the score at 35-35 at the end of the game.

Both teams scored three points during the first extra period, Angelo and Barbetta scoring for the Franks with Favorosa and DiTanna again leading the offense for the Ramblers. A field goal by Paul followed by a foul from the hands of Gene Barbetta while the Rams were being held scoreless gave the Fieldsmen the victory in the second quarter of the contest.

Franklin is in first place with five wins and nary a defeat. Harriman now rests in second place with four and one. Edgely moves into a tie for fourth place while the Ramblers are in the cellar with five straight defeats, they having lost four because of using an ineligible player.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS
BY JOE ELBERSON

Time to pause... with the birth of a new year just a matter of hours away it might be a good idea to pause and reflect on our days afield and astream during 1945.

For most of us they were pleasant, happy hours well spent. And for most of us they were somewhat limited. But on the whole 1945 was good to us.

Fishing was good. So was hunting with the exception possibly of duck hunting, which was mediocre.

And while we're reflecting it might also be a good idea to renew some of our annual resolutions. They can be refreshing, and when observed will make for many more happy days of hunting and fishing.

Let's be resolved to:
Lend our active support to every worthwhile conservation program;
Obey the hunting and fishing laws;
Respect the rights of others, both landowners and our fellow sportsmen;

Take part in the work and activities of our local hunting and fishing organizations;
Kill no more game or fish than we can actually use;
Work towards the abolition of stream pollution;

Share our pleasures in hunting and fishing with our sons and the young boys we know;
Make it our personal and individual responsibility to see that Silver Lake is not used wantonly;

Never cease being careful with our firearms;
Make our woods and streams more productive so that we can share better hunting and fishing with the thousands of our fellow sportsmen who are still in the armed services;

Remember always that our hunting and fishing privileges are sacred trusts and not to be abused;
Do our share in seeing that the Canal is kept in as fine a condition as during the last year;

Inside Your Congress

But if the Left has now a tremendous leverage on the President, they have some leverage also on the G. O. P. Will the latter—or some of them—go Left? There are signs here and there. Some have already gone. For example: In 1937 a New Dealer was Governor of Michigan. He was very gentle to sit-down strikes and the seizure of property in violation of law. But in 1945, in Connecticut, a Republican Governor opposes the unlawful seizure of property at the Yale and Towne factory.

I return to Cannon. He indicates that the spending boys are "through," or will march only over his political corpse. He points out that you can't grin off—a la F.D.R.—a $300 billion debt; an interest charge of $6 billion; a military establishment costlier than we have ever known; huge United Nations commitments; tremendous hospitalization costs for our returning veterans, and steadily shrinking revenues.

Whether Cannon speaks for his friend from Missouri, or in opposition to him, he has taken a brave stand and deserves the support of everyone outside of lunatic asylums. More important than further "social reforms," of doubtful value but certain cost, is the bitter need to get this nation's finances in order—soon. That, plus production, production, production—and damn the road blocks and the men who put them there.

30, 1943, the testatrix bequeathed her estate to the same nieces and nephews because her brother had died in the meantime. Ada B. Reed-er was named executor.
The nieces are Blanche A. Dol-ton and Anna E. Thompson and the nephews are J. Burleigh Allen and Christian Tomlinson.

Claim Disadvantage In The Control Law

Waters. The money contributed by one area of land may be spent on an entirely different area.

Wallin cited two items in the bills of equity introduced in the fight. One concerned a man who owned his own land. He bought a steam shovel and later a truck and began stripping coal from his holding. When the law went into effect, he was unable to raise the required $2000 minimum bond and was forced out of business.

The other concerned a landown-er who leased his land to a strip-per. When the law went into ef-fect, the operator was forced by its terms to plant trees on the land or forfeit his bond. The land-owner did not want trees on his land. He had other plans.

Wallin's group contends the land on which its members strip coal is generally for sale for $2 or $2.50 an acre. Why charge us $200 to restore land with such a low value? they ask.

Wallin said the members of his organization are mostly small oper-ators as compared with those in western Pennsylvania. They lease nearly all their holdings.
